

Gary R. Harp is Director of Kentucky's Division of Geographic Information (DGI), which is located within the Commonwealth Office of Technology. Gary assumed the role as Director of DGI on 15 March 2004 and represents the Commonwealth of Kentucky in Geographic Information related issues. Gary was formerly the Data Integrity Manager for Kentucky's Cabinet for Families and Children, and has experience in numerous public, military and private settings, that included being Chief of Staff for Information Management of an Army Reserve Division, Commander of an Army Reserve Brigade, Commander of a Battalion Plus sized Task Force during Desert Storm, as well as an Army Reserve Battalion. In the private sector Gary has been CIO for Total Wellness, Inc., President of Gary R. Harp IT Consulting, and President of several other companies. His current duties include the establishment of policies, strategic and tactical planning, budget preparation and general oversight for expanding Geographic Information related activities throughout the Commonwealth. As Director of DGI, Gary is accountable to the Commissioner of the Commonwealth Office of Technology and to the Secretary of Finance. Gary has a BS in Psychology, a MPA in Public Administration and additionally has graduated from the Army Command & General Staff College as well as the Army War College.